

Riverview Farm's Meat CSA includes a monthly mix of Berkshire pork and grassfed beef from Riverview Farms and truly free-range eggs from the happy hens at Featherwise Farms. Similar to a produce CSA, you subscribe in advance for six consecutive months of deliveries. Each month, your order will be available for pickup at the drop point of your choosing (see page 2 for locations). Boxes are marked with customer names, and the contents protected by an insulated liner; eggs are normally found in a separate crate. Deliveries are on a designated Thursday each month.

A monthly share includes a mix of ground meats, roast cuts, and steak or chop cuts, in addition to eggs (most months). Choose between two sizes: 10 or 16 pounds.

Option #1: 10 pounds monthly

- 1 dozen eggs (if available)
- 3.5 pounds pork sausage (loose, Italian sausage, or bratwurst)
- 2.5 pounds pork roasts
- 1.5 pounds pork chops
- 2.5 pounds ground beef

$410 for 6 month subscription, which is equivalent to $6.50/lb or $68/month.

Option #2: 16 pounds monthly

- 2 dozen eggs (if available)
- 3.5 pounds pork sausage (loose, Italian sausage, or bratwurst)
- 5 pounds roasts (2 roasts)
- 1.5 pounds pork chops
- 2 pounds steak
- 4 pounds ground beef

$770 for 6 month subscription, which is equivalent to $7.50/lb or $128/month.

Please note that the exact weight of each package, or the total weights within each category will vary. We do our best to stick to the ground/roast/steak-chop ratios and total weight advertised. Other specialty cuts such as ribs might be substituted from time to time.

Admittedly, participating in a meat CSA is different than going to the grocery store to purchase a ribeye. But what you lose in choice, you gain in price. Sometimes, you'll get a ribeye in your share for less than half the $15/lb you'd pay at the grocery store. Sometimes you'll get ribs. All the time, you'll get the same tasty and healthy meats found in the best restaurants in Atlanta for a per-pound price that's lower than what you'd pay if you were buying by the cut.

Subscribe with another family and share the share each month!

Add-On Orders

Meat CSA customers can use a special price list to purchase additional items by the cut, delivered with your monthly CSA box. Add-on items include all of the standard cuts, ground meat, and sausages. Special requests may also be accommodated. Customers can reserve some of these selections (those with standardized weights) from our online order form; requests for other cuts can be made by email to Suzanne@abraxis.com.
